

Education

Phoenix Philanthropy's experienced professionals have personally led or consulted on campaigns ranging from $800,000 to $750 million, establishing us as one of the go-to experts in education and higher education advancement.

Phoenix Philanthropy's consultants have broad experience, nationally and internationally, and are creative and focused. They are mission-driven, consummate professionals who are knowledgeable and experienced in every aspect of the world of Advancement. I especially appreciate the personal attention The Phoenix Philanthropy Group offers me and my staff. They do far more than dispense advice; they provide tools, strategies, calendars, and samples that allow us to move forward strategically and efficiently.

Giving to Education

- Prioritize the development of vibrant, active alumni networks – especially continuing education and networking opportunities.
- Encourage a campus-wide culture of philanthropy by establishing partnerships across all departments and providing fundraising training to academic leaders and staff.
- Develop effective and active major gift and planned giving programs to leverage historically larger gifts given to education institutions.
